

John Trujillo

PGA CERTIFIED PROFESSIONAL IN INSTRUCTION

TITLEIST PERFORMANCE INSTITUTE CERTIFIED GOLF FITNESS INSTRUCTOR

John Trujillo has utilized his 25 years of combined classroom and golf teaching experience to provide superior golf instruction to over 1,500 men, women, and junior golfers. John earned a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering, served as an Air Force officer and Assistant Professor in the USAFA Mathematics Department, and taught at the University of Southern California, his alma mater. In 2005, he completed an accelerated Professional Golf Management program offered by the PGA of America for exceptional individuals who show outstanding potential in the field of golf. In his seven seasons as a golf instructor, he has displayed a rare talent to teach and get proven results from his students regardless of their skill level. He provides private instruction using leading-edge technology and fitness training, and he offers several specialty golf clinics, including Preparation for Middle/High School Golf Team, Ladies Morning Out, and Short Game Improvement. John gives back to the game as a long-time volunteer for the Eisenhower Junior Golf Camp and other golf programs along the Front Range.

MARK KELBEL

PGA CLASS-A MEMBER

COLORADO SECTION AWARD WINNER

As a third Generation Golf Professional, originally from Northern Michigan, Mark has been a Class A member of the PGA for 27 years. As the Head Golf Professional at the world famous Broadmoor Resort for nearly 19 years, he assisted in the management and coordination of three major tournaments during his tenure at the Broadmoor, the 2008 and 2018 U.S. Senior Open's and the 2011 U.S. Women's Open Championship.

Mark has taught 200 private lessons a year on average during his many years at the Broadmoor and has given over 5,000 private golf lessons during his illustrious career. He has taught over 150 large and small clinics during his time at the Broadmoor and has taught such high profile clients as Prince Harry, Coach Bob Knight, Branford Marselis and many other athletes and entertainers.

Among his many accomplishments, Mark was named the 2017 Golf Professional of the Year in the Colorado Section and also received the Bill Strausbaugh Award for mentoring and coaching in 2015 from the Colorado Section.

Mark received a bachelors from Michigan State University in Advertising and Communications and earned a Masters Degree in Hospitality Management from Texas Tech University.

Mark has been married to his wife Audrey for 24 years and has three children, Remy, Karris and John.

Theo Gregory

CLASS- A PGA GOLF PROFESSIONAL

Theo Gregory is a graduate from the Professional Golf Management program the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs, receiving both his bachelor's degree and his Class A PGA status from UCCS. He has been a Class A member of the Professional Golfers Association since 2014. Theo started as an intern at Eisenhower Golf in the Spring of 2008 and has been a key member of the Eisenhower staff since.

Theo has worked with the men's and ladies groups in addition to coordinating and teaching numerous junior golf camps in the last few years. He is comfortable with all ages and abilities. As a longtime resident of Colorado Springs, he honed his golf skills at the Broadmoor and here at Eisenhower. He is a longtime fan of the Ohio State Buckeyes and the Cleveland Browns.

Steve Wallace

PGA CLASS – A PROFESSIONAL

GENERAL MANAGER EISENHOWER GOLF

Steve has been a Class A member of the PGA for 25 years and has given hundreds of lessons over his career. His career started at the Mobil 5 star, Wigwam Resort in Phoenix. Steve specializes in working with experienced golfers looking to get back to form or learn a few new shots. Steve received his bachelors degree in Business Administration at Roger Williams College in Bristol Rhode Island. He has worked with the Men's and Women's clubs at Eisenhower GC and assists with the Junior Golf Camps. He also works with Cadets and players of all ages and skill levels. He has served on several PGA Section committees and has authored articles for PGA Magazine.